1. Introduction

The Department of Conservation (DoC) is a Crown entity established under the Department of Conservation Act 1986. It is responsible for the management of the Department's natural and cultural heritage resources. The Department's primary role is to protect and enhance the natural and cultural heritage resources of New Zealand. This includes the management of national parks, reserves, and other areas of natural and cultural significance. The Department also has a role in promoting sustainable development and the conservation of the environment.
